Lunch Can Make Us Rich

"Honey," I said to the office secretary — a raven-haired 21-year old beauty who plans to marry a handsome young cuss in April, "freshen up a bit and I'll take you to lunch."

She ignored the invitation because she prefers the formality of being addressed as "Miss Holder" and also because she was pre-occupied with reading a "Dear Abby" column in the morning newspaper. Abby, that day, was castigating bosses who at empt to entice toothsome secretaries with expensive noontime meals.

When her attention was finally attracted to my invitation, I explained that the luncheon, for which I planned to pay $17.50 was to commemorate her birthday.

"My birthday is in October, not February," she said negatively. "Besides, nobody but an idiot would spend $17.50 for lunch."

"Don't be so smart," I retorted. "Supervisor Jack Walsh spent that much for his secretary's birthday lunch at the Westgate Plaza on Nov. 17 according to a chit he turned in for the County to pay."

"Ridiculous," she said.

"Not at all," I responded. "It all balances out. He turned in a tab for $1.83 at Calabrese's, which is pretty reasonable. There was one at Miyako's for $6. Of the latter two, Mr. Walsh contended when he requested payment from County funds, that they were work sessions. Even taxpayers will agree that such expenses are legitimate ones if office work is conducted during the meal," I explained.

"But that is so out of character for you," secretary opined. "I thought you were more in perspective when you bought me a donut just before Thanksgiving. But a $17.50 luncheon is preposterous!"

"Miss Holder," I said sternly. "The boss may not always be right but he's always boss!" I was reading from a wall plaque which hangs just outside my door and of which only the first part is headed by the employees. "However, this is a sound business concept. If we discuss business at the $17.50 lunch, it may result in a program of greater business efficiency as it no doubt did for Mr. Walsh. He has probably saved $17.50 many times over as a result of lunch conferences with his secretary."

"If profit-making efficiency results from our luncheon," I insisted, "and my tax obligation increases, Supervisor Walsh may have discovered a formula for balancing the County's economy. Now about our luncheon..."

"Well, I don't know," she said tentatively as the telephone interrupted her decision.

"That was the bank," she explained. "They phoned to say the note on your business loan is three weeks overdue; your car payment wasn't made this month, and a check you wrote to the San Ysidro Hungry Children's Society is not being honored because of insufficient funds. What shall I tell them?"

"Tell them I'll call back after lunch," I instructed.

Dick Brown, E.C. Councilman Enters Supervisor's Race

Dick Brown, an El Cajon tool engineering firm owner, has dropped his hat into the ring for the supervisor's seat to be left vacant by Henry Boney, who said he would not seek re-election in his 2nd District.

Brown, 39, has been a member of the El Cajon City Council for the past six years said his determination to seek the post was his intense interest in good government.

"I served my apprenticeship both as a councilman and as a businessman," he said. "I have the fiscal and business experience necessary to provide leadership the supervisory job requires."

"Government needs change. Especially in management areas. We need to apply sound economics to governmental planning."

"We need also to get the private sector to support plans of government. In order to get support for the plans the plans must make economic sense to them.

"There are problems that are just now only at the periphery of solution. But solutions must make sense to citizens if they are to support government. That is why business judgment is important."

"Change by which we can solve our problems rather than smooth them over must be a part of modern government. An example of such a problem is the demand for open space. Everybody wants more open space. Yet, through our present

United Crusade To Seek Federal Partnership

Philip M. Klauber, vice president, San Diego Gas and Electric Co., was elected president of United Crusade, at the 52nd Annual Meeting of UCS at El Cortez hotel Monday night.

He succeeds attorney David H. Thompson.

O. N. "Pat" Hyndman was selected vice president; the Rev. Grandison Phelps, secretary, and Jesse Ramirez, treasurer.

The Lemon Grove and Spring Valley communities, among others, were cited for outstanding effort.

James L. Knight, publisher of Knight Newspapers and treasurer of United Way America, detailed a "new direction" for citizen supported social agencies.

He told more than 400 volunteer executives that government should be able to contract for services from our volunteer agencies — wherever and from whoever can provide best services for the least cost.

"The Federal Government doesn't build aircraft for the Air Force. It contracts for the planes from private industry. There is no reason why we should contract for services in the human care field," Knight said.

In line with Knight's philosophy, the UCS board had already taken action to recognize and re-direct efforts to meet the "problems of the 70s."

"... (UCS) wisely recognizes there are limits to what the voluntary dollar can do. Our urban areas are growing much faster than are contrib-

Lot Split Ends On All Property

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — County supervisors have ended the process of land division known as lot splitting by the adoption of a new procedure on an urgency basis.

This will require the filing of a parcel map on all divisions and costs and the time required will be considerably more, although how much will depend upon the individual case.

Actually, lot splitting was ended last summer by a moratorium when the planning department staff got a lot-split work-load it could not cope with.

A parcel map can be described as an approach to a subdivision map which can be used when four or fewer parcels are being created.

County planners contend the lot split method has led to growth patterns adverse to future development and sometimes to the detriment of buyers of lots created by splits.

utory funds," he said. In addition to seeking partnership with the government the UCS board will decentralize its administrative functions and make boards and committees more representative of the total community.

Fire, Water Damage SV's Golden Bowl

A faulty thermostat on a deep fryer was listed as the probable cause for a fire which started early on the morning of February 2 at Golden Bowl, 9805 Campo rd., Spring Valley.

The blaze, which damaged the kitchen of the local bowling alley, started at about 6:30 a.m. when the deep fat fryer overheated, causing the grease to ignite.

Most of the damage to the structure was caused not by the fire, but by the automatic sprinkler system, which quickly snuffed out the blaze, but continued to pump water throughout the building. The Spring Valley Fire Department arrived after the fire had been extinguished and was faced with the task of shutting off the system and clearing out the water.

Damage was estimated at $3,000.

In another fire last week, the home of John and Mary Dietrich, at 3702 Sinclair lane, Spring Valley, was damaged severely by flames which broke out at about 1:45 p.m. February 1.

According to fire department reports, Mrs. Dietrich, napping on a couch at the home, was awakened by the family dog when the fire started. Trying to combat the blaze, she received first and second degree burns on her hands and arms. She was given first aid at the scene.

The fire is believed to have started in the living room of the residence, although the cause of the blaze has not been determined. Damage was estimated at $16,000.

L.G. Fire Report

The Lemon Grove Fire Department, for the week of Jan. 31-Feb. 7, made three calls, all on Feb. 4.

Two calls were within one hour of each other, one being an overheated heater, and the other, at 7346 Broadway, an electric fire in a game machine, with loss estimated at $25.

One rescue run was made at 6775 Hybiscus st., where an infant was having convulsions and was hospitalized.

Supreme Court Rejects Sups Boundary Squabble

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — Deputy District Attorney Joseph Kase, Jr., received word Friday from San Francisco that the Supreme Court had refused to review the case of the supervisors' meandering boundaries.

He said the court's clerk had transferred it to the local Court of Appeals, San Diego.

Kase said Monday that he does not expect an early ruling out of the Fourth District Court of Appeals concerning the Oct. 5 redistricting by the Board of Supervisors.

He said the locally-functioning appeals court had not received the papers filed in the Supreme Court by normal mail.

The Supreme Court is returning the petition filed by attorney Roger S. Ruffin to the district court.

The petition seeks to have the Oct. 5 ordinance put aside so that the election would be held upon old district lines.

Four Arrested On Variety Of Charges In SV

Two Spring Valley men and two Spring Valley juveniles aged 16 and 17 years, were arrested early last Sunday morning on charges of being under the influence of alcohol, contributing to the delinquency of a minor, curfew, and possession of restricted dangerous drugs.

In response to a radio call regarding a carload of juveniles creating a disturbance in the La Presa area, Sheriff's deputies proceeded to the scene, only to observe a car fitting the suspect vehicle description, traveling at a high rate of speed away from the scene.

Deputies turned around and chased the suspects, finally locating the car parked at a nearby residence with the engine running. All four suspects were still in the vehicle.

At that point, deputies contacted the suspects, noting a strong smell of an alcoholic beverage about the car. As the suspects exited the car, a second capsule was noted on the front passenger seat, situated in such a position that deputies were led to believe it had fallen out of the pocket of James B. Kirkpatrick, 19, of 3313 Ybarra, Spring Valley. He was charged with possession of restricted dangerous drugs.

Arrested for contributing to the delinquency of a minor was Jeffrey H. Morgan, 21, of 10030 San Juan, Spring Valley. Morgan and Kirkpatrick were taken to County Jail, while the juveniles were transported to Juvenile Hall.

Planning Association To Discuss Population Figure At Meeting This Evening

The Executive Committee of the Lemon Grove Planning Association will meet this evening in the Lemon Grove Junior High School auditorium at 7:30 p.m. to decide on a population projection figure and discuss by-laws.

At the last Executive Committee meeting, goals from subcommittees were presented, and included in the reports was the population projection figure of 35,000 by the residential subcommittee.

The figure was met with opposition by other subcommittees and residents at the meeting, although supported by

Imperial-80 Hearing To Be Feb. 17

Delayed again!

The San Diego City Council last Thursday morning again delayed a scheduled hearing on the Pacific Bay Development Company's latest proposal for the Imperial-80 project.

The latest proposal, which would call for construction of homes in that portion of the project which would fall within the boundaries of the San Diego Unified School District, was continued until February 17 so the school district could study it.

The entire project would mean an increase in enrollment for the Lemon Grove School District, as the main portion of the development would lie within the boundaries of the local district.

The Lemon Grove School District has opposed the project because the developers have refused to agree to contracts calling for aid to the district for temporary school facilities.

The new proposal, although it would not affect local school enrollment, has been viewed by the school district as well as residents surrounding the proposed development as a "foot in the door" tactic which would make it easier for developers to get approval of the entire project, once construction of the first portion was underway.

The Lemon Grove School District has filed a letter with the City Council indicating the district's feelings about the proposed partial development.

The hearing has been continued until 10 a.m. February some property owners. After the Lemon Grove Planning Association will meet this evening in the Lemon Grove Junior High School auditorium at 7:30 p.m. to decide on a population projection figure and discuss by-laws.

The population projection figure holds the key to the Lemon Grove master plan, as such subcommittees as education, parks and recreation, and commercial and business must use it as a foundation for goals.

Also at tonight's meeting will be the discussion and expected revision of bylaws regarding the voting rolls, which is necessary because of "too much dead weight," according to Executive Committee Chairman Jim Dorman.

Dorman said that the voting rolls are too large and that many of those on the eligible lists rarely attend meetings, which causes problems in attaining a quorum for passing resolutions.

An automatic removal of those who miss a certain number of meetings over a certain span of time is presently favored and may be adopted at tonight's meeting.

Time permitting, revisions of subcommittee goals will be undertaken at the meeting. Chairmen of each of the subcommittees met last week to discuss overlapping items in tentative goals, which were introduced at the January 27 meeting. Some conclusions which were reached at that meeting will be discussed at tonight's meeting.

February 23 Meeting Set By S.V. Planners

The Valle de Oro Planning Association Executive Committee will meet February 23 in the Monte Vista High School gymnasium to consider bylaws and a proposed work program.

The planning group, formerly known as "community-x", selected the new name at a meeting last month. In other action at the meeting, an eight-page document on bylaws was presented, as well as a work program.

Both items were continued until the February meeting, which would allow residents of the community to study the documents. Copies of the documents, as well as minutes of the meeting, have been sent to the 900 residents who signed up for the executive committee when the planning group was founded.

GOOD NEIGHBORS — Diane Jackson, reigning Miss La Mesa, left, and Peggy Franklin, current Miss Spring Valley, met with Miss Spring Valley Contest Chairman Don Tarr recently demonstrating the "good neighbor" policy between the two communities, in conjunction with a rules clarification regarding contest boundaries. The problem, which has never been severe, is that girls sometimes don't know which contest to enter, as the La Mesa postal zone covers portions of Spring Valley and the Spring Valley zone covers portions of La

Mrs. Hale, who is 95 years old, is visiting her daughter, having come from Texas last week for the stay here. A native of Alabama, Mrs. Hale has been living in Texas for the past 15 years and her visit here marks the first time she has seen Spring Valley during that time.

Church Dinner Due Tomorrow

Friday night, from 5 to 7 p.m. a dinner will be served at the First Baptist Church of Spring Valley, sponsored by the church choir, to raise funds to re-roof the parsonage.

The dinner menu will be meat loaf, mashed potatoes, green beans, cole slaw, rolls, dessert and drink. Tickets to the dinner are $2 per adult, children $1, and where there are two or more children in the family under 12, the price is $5 per family.

It might be a good idea to have reservations, said Mrs. Thelma Lewis, of the choir. Reservations may be secured by late Thursday, by calling 466-6747 or 449-0512.

A new adult class has been formed at the church. They meet each Wednesday at p.m., and study the Book of John, and again on Sundays at 9:30 a.m., for the theme "The Second Coming of Jesus."

Dr. L. Neal Carlson has two subjects for Sunday: 11 a.m., "If You Worry In — You Worry Out," and at 7 p.m., "Is the Bible Really the Word of God?"

Folk-rock Group Due At Chapel

"Children of the Day", a folk-rock religious combo from Calvary Chapel in Costa Mesa, will be presented in concert at the One Way Inn, a coffee house located at Faith Chapel Church, 8691 Echo dr., La Mesa.

The concert, which will also feature "One Way" and "Charity", a pair of local musical groups, will begin at 7:30 p.m. The concert is free and open to the public.

Calvary Chapel is one of the original "Jesus Movement" churches and is often considered synonymous with the young Christian movement. The group, consisting of three guitarists and an electric bass player.

Barry McGuire will be presented at the coffee house the following week.

Mrs. Louis Poluzzi To Demonstrate Gourmet Cooking This Evening

A demonstration of gourmet cooking by Spring Valley's Mrs. Louis Poluzzi will highlight a meeting of the San Diego Alumnae Chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi, which will get underway this evening at 6:30 p.m. at 485 Santa Dominga, Solana Beach.

Mrs. Poluzzi, wife of Lemon Grove Junior High School principal Louis Poluzzi, will prepare an appetizer and dessert for the dinner meeting at the home of Mrs. Philip H. Holtkamp.

"Recomendar" looks much like its English counterpart "recommend." It may appear in phrases like "Me gustaria recomendar eso." (I would like to recommend this.) "Permiteme recomendar este libro." (Permit me to recommend this book.) and "Voy a recomendar a el." (I am going to recommend him.)

"Recomiendo" is a variation of "recomendar." "Recomiendo" means "I recommend." It may also be used in the negative sense; "No recomiendo." (I do not recommend.) Other usages of "recomiendo" are seen in the phrases "Yo recomiendo la comida." (I recommend the food.) "Yo recomiendo este trabajador." (I recommend this worker.) and "Yo no recomiendo este cine." (I do not recommend this movie.)

"Recomienda" expresses "recommend" when used with the subjects "el" (he), "ella" (she), and "usted" (you). Examples of these are seen in expressions like "Ella recomienda el postre." (She recommends the dessert.) "El no recomienda un coche usado." (He does not recommend a used car.) and "Recomienda usted algo?" (Do you recommend something?)

"Recomendamos" is the way to say "we recommend." Occasionally the pronoun "nosotros" (we) may appear with "recomendamos." Examples of "recomendamos" are seen in phrases like "Nosotros recomendamos este viaje." (We recommend this trip.) "Recomendamos esta tienda." (We recommend this store.) and "Nosotros recomendamos esta escuela." (We recommend this school.)

"Recomiendan" is also a way to say "recommend."

Pronouns like "ellos" (they) and "ustedes" (you) appear with this form. Examples are "Ellos recomiendan la carretera." (They recommend the highway.) and "Que recomien dan ustedes?" (What do all of you recommend?).

The following practice phrases demonstrate the various forms of "recomendar." You may wish to practice saying them with the recorded voice that says them for you when you dial 276-2762 on your telephone.

Say "Me gustaria recomendar eso." (meh goos-tah-REE-ah reh-koh-meh-n-DAH-ER EH-soh) for "I would like to recommend this."

Say "Voy a recomendar a el." (VOH-ee ah reh-koh-meh-n-DAH-ah EHL)

for "I am going to recommend him."

Say "Yo recomiendo la comida." (yoh reh-koh-mee-EHN-doh lah koh-MEE-thah)

for "I recommend the food."

Say "Yo no recomiendo el cine." (yoh noh reh-koh-mee-EHN-doh ehl SEE-neh)

for "I do not recommend the movie."

Say "Que recomiendan ustedes?" (keh reh-koh-mee-EHN-dahn oo-STEH-thehs) for "What do (all of) you recommend?"

Say "Recomendamos la escuela." (reh-koh-meh-n-DAH-mohs lah eh-skoo-EH-lah)

for "We recommend the school."

EMPLOYEE OF THE YEAR — Agapito Ameng, left, of 839 Romana ave., Spring Valley, displays his special engraved San Diego Navy Public Works Center Plaque. Meanwhile, PWC Maintenance Foreman Gordon Frane holds Ameng's Certificate of Merit awards involving Ameng's selection as PWC Employee of the Year for 1971 and PWC Janitorial Branch Manager Ed Sandusky looks on.

S.V. Man Is Public Works Center Employee Of The Year For 1971

A Spring Valley resident has been named Employee of the Year with the San Diego Navy Public Works Center. He's Agapito Ameng of 839 Romana ave., a member of the PWC Maintenance Department's Janitorial Force. He was picked for the honor from among the command's 1,600 civil-service employee population.

In special ceremonies before the Center Executive Board, Captain Ralph B. Grahl, Commanding Officer, presented Ameng a Certificate of Merit and a specially engraved command plaque.

"One of Ameng's obvious and outstanding qualities is his constant readiness to go out of his way to assist others. He practices the routine of always providing more service than he's paid for, that commendable effort of always giving Navy commands he serves in the San Diego more service than is required," is the way Capt. Grahl explained him.

"Ameng demonstrates an outstanding brand of professionalism in his job ranging from knowledge of the job to equipment operation concerned," according to Ed Sandusky, PWC Janitorial Branch Manager and a resident of 551 Broadview st., Spring Valley. An example is his present job.

"He was formerly assigned aboard the Naval Electronics Laboratory Center. But PWC recently had a request to provide janitorial service to the Superintendent of Shipbuilding in San Diego. It called for assignment of an above average person. I selected Ameng for the job. You see, being a janitor is not just a job, it's a profession, and Ameng is one of the best," Sandusky said.

The citation accompanying the award credits him as "a top professional janitor, an example for others to follow. In addition to his daily routine he's constantly in search of better ways to accomplish his job more economically."

His daily routine for PWC includes janitorial service for the Commanding Officer, Superintendent of Shipbuilding. His busy schedule of responsibilities takes in the total area from the commanding officer's office to the Steno Room.

However, he still finds time to function in on-the-job formal janitorial training as an instructor with the Center.

Ameng has served with the San Diego Navy Public Works Center for the past four years. Before starting his civil-service career he served a 20-year active duty Navy career that ended in retirement.

PWC started an Employee of the Month Program in March 1971. Ameng was selected as the first Center employee to afford the honor. His name was considered among all other nominations submitted during the year ending additionally in his selection as PWC Employee of the Year for 1971.

Parish Council Formed At St. John's Church

Under the leadership of Reverend Patrick J. Kearney, Pastor of St. John of the Cross Church, the first meeting of the Parish Council took place January 26.

The Parish Council is designed to be an advisory committee to the Pastor and a channel of communication to the parish. It is expected to become the coordinating and unifying structure of the parish community and be the vehicle of achieving participation of parishioners.

Following are the councilors: president, Vincent Mullen; vice president, Roy Williams; parliamentarian, Lee Clapham; and secretary, Roberta Hoaglund.

Chairmen of committees are: education, Mrs. Pat Shea; Catholic action, Mrs. Lorraine Johnson; family life and youth, Joseph Nicholson; worship, Frank Alvarez; missions, Mrs. Florence Mayeski; and administration and maintenance, Roy Williams.

If the two-dollar bill is revived it could save taxpayers $2.1 million a year, says James A. Conlon, director of engraving and printing, by cutting down on the number of dollar bills circulating.

AREA OBITUARIES

Graveside Services Held For Walter H. Carpenter

Graveside services were held last Friday at Mt. Hope Cemetery for Walter H. Carpenter 56, of 4333 College ave., Apt. 36, San Diego, who died February 1 at College Park Hospital.

Carpenter, a native of Indiana, lived in the San Diego area for 25 years, including 20 years in Lemon Grove. Services were under the direction of Conrad Lemon Grove Mortuary.

A member of Lathers Union Local No. 260, Carpenter was employed for 20 years with the W. R. Donoho Lathing Co. and was a member of the Eagles Lodge.

Survivors include two sons, David and Curtis Carpenter, both of Imperial Beach; a brother, Edgar E. Carpenter of Oregon; and a sister, Amy M. Edwards, of the state of Washington.

The family suggested contributions to the American Cancer Society.

A. M. Tonini

Services were held last Friday afternoon at Greenwood Mortuary for Amelia M. Tonini, 86, of 6775 Hibiscus dr., Lemon Grove, who died February 2 at Community Conalescent Hospital.

Mrs. Tonini, a native of Texas, came to this area as an infant. Entombment was in Greenwood Mausoleum.

Survivors include a son, Raymond C. Tonini, of San Diego; two daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Douglass, of Santee, and Mrs. Ethel C. Crossley, of Northridge, California; four grandchildren; eight great-grandchildren, and five great-great-grandchildren.

P. Riggs

Recitation of the Rosary was last Thursday evening in the Paris Mortuary Chapel for Paul Riggs, of 3231 South Granada st., Spring Valley, who died February 1 in Gross-mont Hospital.

A native of Italy, Riggs lived here for 19 years and was the owner of Auto City Glass for three years. He was also the owner of an auto dealership in Detroit, Michigan.

Requiem Mass was celebrated Friday morning at Holy Trinity Catholic Church in El Cajon, with interment following in Alpine Cemetery.

Riggs is survived by his wife, Josephine; two sons, Paul Riggs, Junior, of Michigan, and James Riggs, of Vansville, California; a daughter, Betty Keselring, of Michigan; and two grandchildren.

'Mule Deer Country' Is Film Sat.

Grossmont College will continue its series devoted to "Quest for the Quality Life," when National Audubon Society speaker Lyle K. "Buzz" Moss personally narrates his wildlife film, "Mule Deer Country," at 3 p.m., Saturday, in the Fine Arts Lecture Hall.

"Mule Deer Country" opens with two new fawns who are starting life on stilt-like legs. Their summer range encompasses some of the most beautiful country in the world, with snow-covered mountain peaks forming picturesque backdrops for their youthful antics. Autumn, with its colors, heralds the season of conflicts, for it is now that the velvet-covered antlers are polished into weapons of battle.

Natural sounds and music are added as the audience watches the playful reception of the first snow. As the snow grows deeper, the deer are forced down from the high country and their numbers outstrip the available food supply in the lowlands.

Wolves, coyotes and cougars, once kept the deer herd

The job: Supervisor. The man: Dick Brown.

Leading this county in 1972 is no patsy job. The man you elect Supervisor will have to fight against the spoilers of our environment. He'll have to fight against the runaway spenders and the tax gouge. He'll have to fight against the forces that threaten the safety and tranquillity of our neighborhoods. He'll have to fight for a well-planned future, for prosperity and security for all of our citizens.

Dick Brown is a man for this season of struggle. Dick has carved a reputation as a scrapper. He started a business with a single lathe in his garage and built it into a successful El Cajon manufacturing plant. He ran for City Council six years ago when fast-buck developers endangered his neighborhood and he won the battle. He has led the effort to revitalize the heart of his city without the federal bulldozer. As a leader of the County's Comprehensive Planning Organization he has worked to strengthen local government and to spur stronger regional progress in transportation, the environment, law enforcement, economic advancement—to name a few.

You'll vote for a Supervisor in the Second District on June 6. Talk to people about Dick Brown. Consider the job that must be done. We think you'll decide Dick Brown is the man for the job.

Here's part of Dick Brown's record of community service:

El Cajon City Councilman and former Mayor.
Representative and former Chairman, County Comprehensive Planning Organization.
Chairman, Industrial Development Standards Committee.
Chairman, League of California Cities Transportation Committee.
Member, Governor's Task Force on Transportation.
Member, State Transportation Board.
Member and former Chairman, Regional Advisory Board, California Council on Criminal Justice.
Member and former Chairman, National League of Cities Committee on Intergovernmental Relations.
Member, San Diego County Efficiency Study Executive Committee.
Vice President, San Diego Taxpayers Association.
Senior Member, Society of Manufacturing Engineers.

Confirmation Rite Planned

On Sunday at the 10 a.m. service, the Rt. Rev. Richard Simpson Watson, D.D. retired Bishop of Utah, will visit St. Philip the Apostle Episcopal Church to confer the rite of Confirmation.

Those eligible are: Nancy Slack, Donald Bowers, Tracy Smith, Kerry Johniken, Allison Hall, David Archbold, Carrie Tracy, Tony Favale, and Delinda Cecotti.

Also, Robert Gunter, Alice Gunter, David Kniffing, and James Goebel.

A reception for the new confirmands and the Bishop will be held in the parish hall following the service.

Ash Wednesday will open the Lenten Schedule of Services at St. Philip's with three services of Holy Communion and Imposition of Ashes at 6 and 10 a.m. and at 7:30 p.m. On the following Wednesdays during Lent there will be services of Holy Communion at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Widespread Narcotics Abuse

The narcotic problem is a very old one. What is new is that it has spread from the ghetto to almost any street in the community. Heroin, codeine and morphine are narcotics derived from opium. Demoral and Percodan are synthetic narcotics.

Heroin, most commonly abused of the narcotics, depresses certain areas of the brain and other parts of the nervous system. Hunger, feeling of pain, and the sex drive are greatly reduced. The initial feeling of euphoria or "high" from heroin becomes less as tolerance to the drug rapidly develops.

Larger and more frequent doses are needed by users. Eventually he is driven constantly to get heroin, by whatever means possible, to avoid very unpleasant withdrawal symptoms and just to feel normal.

Parental Reaction Emotional

When a parent discovers his child is using drugs, the typical reaction is an emotional one, sometimes hostile. He is naturally frightened and anxious and sometimes reactions are counter-productive to being helpful.

At this point, DEFY can assist, having counseled many parents in similar situations. Free confidential counseling is available at DEFY, by telephone, 24-hours daily. Professional counselors are also available by appointment for in-person counseling.

Symbolic Death Wish

Heroin use seems almost a death wish, a symbolic substitution for suicide, according to Dr. George Gay, Chief of Haight-Ashbury Medical Clinic's drug detoxification unit. Heroin addicts are sick people, almost totally alienated.

Overdose Deaths Common

Deaths from overdoses are all too common. Without medical help, overdosage can easily progress from coma to respiratory failure to death. Emergency medical care is urgent. Anyone overdosed should be taken to a hospital immediately.

Even though there are stiff penalties for use, possession or selling heroin, the district attorney has said that no one seeking emergency treatment at a hospital for drug overdose will be arrested, unless he has broken another law. It is necessary to act fast to save the life of a person who has overdosed.

'Bike-a-Thon' Due Feb. 26

The San Diego County Chapter of the March of Dimes outlined plans on how it will "pump up" new enthusiasm in its continued drive to knock out birth defects. It's a "Bike-a-thon!"

Hundreds of bicycle riders in the county will have an opportunity to test their stamina, do their bit for ecology and help a worthy cause when they start a 40-mile coastal trip, February 26. Registration will start at 8 a.m. "We will be riding to prevent birth defects," said Geoff Ferber, chairman of the event. "When you remember that some 2,000 babies are born each year in San Diego County with some physical problem, we all can forget about tiring muscles."

He said the ride is open to all and that registration forms will be made available at schools, bike shops, banks, drug stores and at the Ocean-side March of Dimes office, 306 Wisconsin st., Oceanside.

Each person participating in the Bike-a-thon will seek contribution pledges or sponsors for each mile covered in the event. Riders will have check point cards stamped along the route and show them to sponsors at the conclusion of the trip.

Money raised will go for intensive basic and clinical research, public health education campaigns and rubella immunization and prenatal care programs supported by the March of Dimes.

There are more than 30,000 franchised new automobile dealers in the U.S.

F. J. Benesch

Memorial services were held last Thursday afternoon at Greenwood Mortuary under the auspices of Lemon Grove Masonic Lodge No. 736, for Frank J. Benesch, 81, of 10950 Dutton dr., Casa de Oro, who died January 31 at Grossmont Hospital.

Benesch, a native of Illinois, lived here for 21 years. He was a retired engineer for Western Electric Company of Chicago and a 56-year member of Riverside Masonic Lodge No. 862 in Illinois.

He was also a member of San Miguel Chapter No. 579, Order of the Eastern Star, the Telephone Pioneers of America, and the First United Presbyterian Church of El Cajon. Interment was in Greenwood Memorial Park.

Surviving are his widow, Lillian; a son, Frank Benesch, Jr., of Illinois; a daughter, Mrs. Marge Sauer, of Colorado; a brother, Robert Benesch, of Chula Vista; five sisters, Orlie Edmunds, Ida Fastnacht, Anna Campbell, and Marie White, all of San Diego, and Rose Bussey, of Los Angeles; nine grandchildren; and one great-grandson.

The family suggested contributions to the Living Memorial Fund of the First United Presbyterian Church of El Cajon.

W. D. Jones

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in the Conrad Lemon Grove Mortuary Chapel for William D. Jones, 88, of 3122 Main st., Apt. 2, Lemon Grove, who died February 5 at his residence.

Jones, a native of Missouri, lived here for 6 years. He was a self-employed farmer for 60 years. Interment was in Alpine Cemetery.

Survivors include his wife, Ruby; three sons, Thomas M. Jones, of San Diego; Dale Jones, of Norwalk, Calif., and Dean Jones, of Missouri; two daughters, Mrs. Wilda Askeew, of La Mesa, and Mrs. Wanda Fisher, of San Diego; 18 grandchildren; and 18 great-grandchildren.

MV Student To Live With Mexican Family

Monte Vista High School student Loretta Borbolla, will participate in the "Experimental International Living Program." This program will entitle her to live with a family in or near Mexico City for two months and travel throughout Mexico for the remainder of this summer.

Last year "Lari" entered the National Spanish Examination for third year students and placed first in the county.

Because of her high scores, she qualified for national competition, the first time in recent years that any San Diego County student has qualified for the honor.

Lari received notice that she had placed in the top one percent in the nation. "But later I found out that I was the sixth student in the nation," she said.

Lari's score entitled her to a scholarship. "I asked for a summer study in Mexico, but since I was only a sophomore, they told me that I would have to compete with three other people for the scholarship," Lari added.

After filling out application forms and waiting, Lari was notified that she had won her scholarship.

Eagle Comeback Costs Monarchs First Loop Win

By Tom Blattler

The Granite Hills Eagles, making a fantastic third quarter comeback, slipped by the winless Monte Vista Monarchs, 61-59, in the losers' gym, last Tuesday afternoon.

Sophomore guard Jim Bedsole led the Eagles in the scoring department with 17 points. Granite Hills' four other starters also scored in double figures. Forward Joe Roth threw in 12 points while Mike Ortega and Doug Skidmore each pumped in 11 markers. Senior guard Roy Jones added 10.

The top scorer for Monte Vista was senior forward Carl Zemlick with 23 points. Zemlick connected on eight field goals and seven of nine free throw attempts.

The Monarchs jumped out to an early lead as they have done in most of their contests, and led at the end of the first period, 18-15. Zemlick and forward Steve Smith led the way for Monte Vista.

In the second stanza, Monte Vista extended its lead to 11 just before halftime, as Rick Baker and Zemlick burned the nets. The Monarchs outscored the Eagles, 21-13, in the quarter to lead 39-28.

But then disaster hit the Monarchs, and Granite Hills started to hit its shots. Monte Vista was unable to find the basket and along with the Eagles' good defense, Granite Hills threw in 20 points to Monte Vista's five. The Eagles led 48-44 going into the final period. Bedsole and Roth led Granite Hills in that period, as each scored eight points.

The fourth quarter was tight as Monte Vista outscored Granite Hills, 15-13. But the Eagles held off the Monarchs to take their fourth victory in nine tries. Monte Vista has yet to reach the win column.

So the Monarchs were still looking for their first win as they invaded the El Capitan Vaqueros' home court Friday night. The Vaqueros are rated as one of the best balanced teams in the county.

But once again the Monarchs fell to defeat as El Cap whipped them, 76-69, despite losing their number one scorer, center Dan Schmidt, with an ankle injury.

The leading point-producer for El Cap was 6-foot-4 senior forward David Ross, who poured in 20 points. Senior Don Sutton pitched in with 17 markers while guards Wade Vickery and Joe Uden each had 14. Sutton was the Vaqueros' top board man with 15.

Carl Zemlick again led the scoring for the Monarchs with 26 markers. Zemlick has flipped in 98 points in his last four games. Rick Baker started back on his scoring ways with 20 points, after scoring only 19 points in the Monarchs' last three games.

The El Capitan Braves will be Monte Vista's next opponent tomorrow night in the Monarch gym starting at 8 p.m. The Braves are led by their 6-foot-4 senior forward John Hurlburt, who is averaging 19 points per contest.

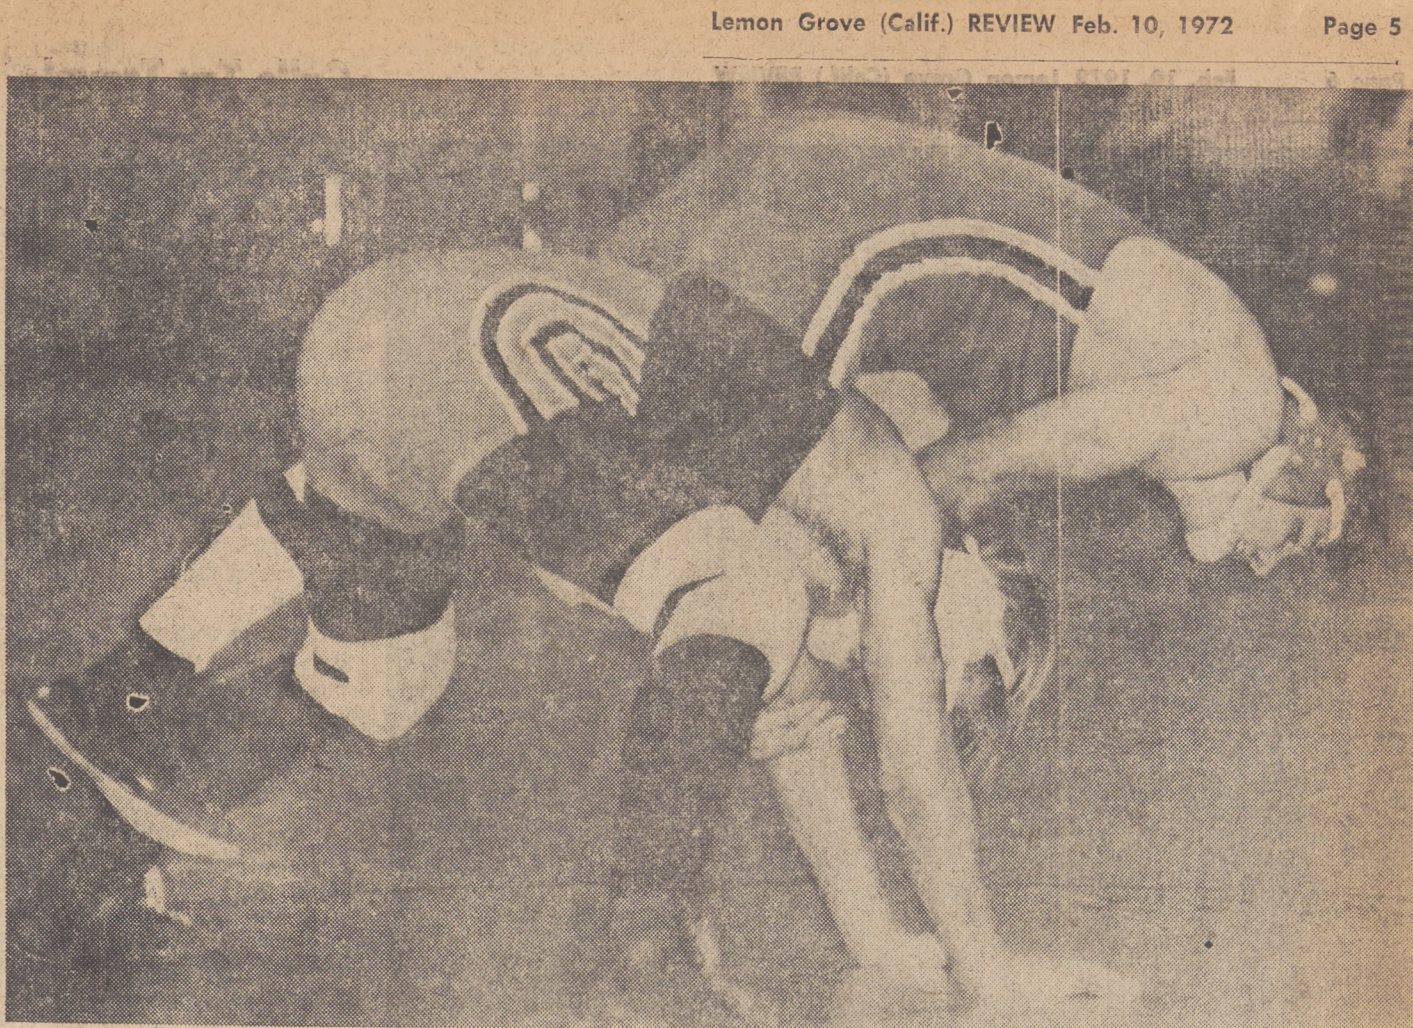

Olympic Funds Sought

The 1972 San Diego County Olympic Fund Raising Drive will be getting into full swing within the next two weeks, according to Tom Ham, chairman of the 1972 drive. Proceeds will be used to send U.S. teams to Munich this summer.

Many of the Olympic hopefuls will be competing in the NCAA-AAU International Indoor Championship Track Meet which will be held in the Sports Arena on February 19. A central post office box has been obtained for mailing of contributions. It is San Diego Olympic Committee, P.O. Box 3, San Diego 92112.

Nick's Picks Prep Action Hot As Seasons Finish Up

By John Nicholson

A good supply of sports will greet area high school fans this week, as wrestling, basketball, and soccer races are decided in the last few contests of the season. Games and expected outcomes follow:

Basketball

El Cajon at Monte Vista, tonight, 8 p.m. El Cajon beat the Monarchs the first time these two teams met, and the same thing is expected to happen again, although the Monte Vistas are hungry for victory. El Cajon by 13 points.

Grossmont at El Capitan, tonight, 8 p.m. Grossmont is a good bet in this game, even though the Vaqueros have the potential to pull off the upset. Foothillers by 7.

Helix at Mt. Miguel, tonight, 8 p.m. Mt. Miguel has had its ups and downs this year, but the Matadors are mostly down these days. Helix by 18.

Santana at Granite Hills, tonight, 8 p.m. Santana is back in the groove after the recovery of Geoff Hinkle, who was out with a foot injury. The Sultans get the nod, by a dozen points.

El Cajon at Grossmont, Tuesday, 4:30 p.m. The Hillers have the height and the defense to do away with the Braves easily. Grossmont by 22.

El Cap at Granite Hills, Tuesday, 4:30 p.m. This will be the week's top game as the Vags are only slightly better than Granite Hills. El Cap by four.

Helix at Monte Vista, Tuesday, 4:30 p.m. The Monarchs are the losingest team in the league, and should continue in this game. Helix by 30.

Mt. Miguel at Santana, Tuesday, 4:30 p.m. The last meeting between these two teams left Mt. Miguel on the short end of a two-point decision. This time the winners will remain the same but the margin will change. Sults by 12.

Soccer

Clairemont at Grossmont, this afternoon at 3 p.m. Grossmont, after a slow start, looks more like a soccer team at this late stage in the season. Even.

Granite Hills at Sweetwater, this afternoon at 3 p.m. The Granite Hills team has improved dramatically with its infant program, but not quite enough to merit the pick over the Red Devils. Sweetwater by a goal.

Montgomery at Mt. Miguel, this afternoon at 3 p.m. Mt. Miguel gets a crack at the big boys and has an outside chance of winning. Montgomery by two.

CIF Playoffs begin Monday, with the finals scheduled for Friday. Montgomery and Pt. Loma are co-favorites.

Wrestling

The final match-ups of the year are scheduled, and there is a slim chance that the title will be shared.

Monte Vista at El Cajon, tonight, 8 p.m. Monte Vista has yet to lose, but El Cajon does have a fine team and the potential for the upset. Don't hold your breath, however. Monte Vista by 9.

Granite Hills at Santana, tonight, 8 p.m. A tough one to call, as both teams can be extremely tough when they are ready. Santana by 3.

Mt. Miguel at Helix, tonight, 8 p.m. Another close match, although Mt. Miguel gets the nod by five.

Top Russian Runners Here For Indoor Games Saturday

The names of the Russian event competitors in high jumper Rustam Akhmyetov and shot putters Valeriy Volkov and Rimantas Plunge.

Akhmyetov was ranked sixth in the world a year ago in the world with a best of 7-3%. That leap won him the Russian crown and he then went on to place third in the European championships at 7-2%.

Headlining the contingent is sprint star Valeriy Borzov. Unbeaten last season, Borzov was ranked number one in the world in the 100-meters. He recorded a best of 10.0 as he raced to the Russian (10.1) and European (10.3) titles.

Borzov won the 100-meters in the USA-USSR-World All-Stars meet in Berkeley for the second straight time. He is entered in the 60-meter event. He was also ranked second in the world in the 200-meters with a best of 20.2, a European record. Apart from winning the European crown (20.3), he also copped the Russian title with his 20.2.

Joining Borzov on the boards will be 1500-meter man Vladimir Panteleyev. The second fastest Russian last season, he recorded an outdoor best of 3:40.6. Panteleyev was rated third in the world indoors with a time of 3:41.5.

The two runners will be accompanied by a trio of field

1972 Padres to be Fast And Hustling Says Preston

Preston Gomez, that redoubtable manager of the San Diego Padres is not given to numerous press statements — but when he does, they should be heeded.

He says that the Padres will have a new look this season. He says the team will be a young, fast, hustling club with a stronger defense and a more consistent attack.

He admits the team isn't going to break down any fences, but they'll hit their share of homers. "This year," he says, "we're going to make the other club work to get us out."

"I'm confident that our defense will be improved but what helped our club finish third in National League pitching was the play of Hernandez at shortstop.

"This year we have tightened two other positions with Jeter in center field and Thomas at second.

"Thomas is quick and Jeter can chase down any fly ball. Hernandez now has a year of major league experience. The reports on Garry Jestead, who is now playing winter ball, are very encouraging and I expect he and Campbell will give us greater strength at third base.

"Our pitching will become even more impressive. I'll start a four man rotation.

Aztec Hoop Game On Ch. 39 Saturday

The San Diego State basketball team will face Cal State Long Beach in the 49ers campus gym Saturday under the all-seeing eye of teevee ch. 39 at 1 p.m.

More than that, coach Dick Davis' Aztecs face a hostile group of fans who will be crowded right against the court.

In the first game in San Diego Long Beach exploded for an easy 89-74 victory. Saturday's contest will close out this season's home-and-home series with coach Jerry Tarkanian's league-leading 49ers.

"Long Beach will have the home court advantage and playing in their gym is a frightening experience," Coach Davis said. "It's going to be tougher in every way including facing a new player, Leonard Gary, the now eligible redshirt from U. of Kansas.

The teams stack up like this: Aztecs 13-6, 49ers 18-2.

Mats Break Losing Streak With Eagle Win

By Paul Stark

The Mount Miguel High School basketballers broke a five-game losing streak last Friday night by upsetting the Granite Hills Eagles, 74-65, on the losers' floor.

The game was after the Matadors lost to league-leading Grossmont, 91-58, Tuesday afternoon, which was the fifth loss in as many games for the local team.

Against Granite Hills, the Matadors opened things up with some streak shooting from Mark Dobransky, who hit for seven points and grabbed down five rebounds, to take a 15-12 lead after the game's first eight minutes.

In the second quarter, the Matador defense went to work while Dobransky and center Steve Ayres scorched the nets with eight and seven tallies respectively. At halftime, the locals held a 36-29 advantage.

An expected third-quarter uprising from the Eagles never developed as the second half got underway, and the Matadors continued to pull away, taking a 55-45 lead into the last eight minutes.

In the final frame, the Eagles came out with an effective full-court press, trimming the Mt. Miguel advantage to just three points, 66-63, with a minute and 45 seconds to go in the game.

Matador Jess Jenner, shooting from outside the Eagle defense, clicked on a pair of shots that iced the Matador victory, as the contest came to a close.

Against Grossmont, the Matador offense fizzled, as the Foothillers took a 26-7 lead before inserting the reserves in the first quarter. In the second frame, things worsened for the local crew, as the Hillers bolstered their lead to a cool 43-27.

In the third quarter, the Grossmont first-stringers were back and blasted the Matadors, taking a commanding 65-37 lead into the final eight minutes. The last quarter saw the Mats against the Hillers Runge, superintendent of the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District, was a little rusty when he accompanied Rita Hon's fourth and fifth grade class from Casa de Oro Elementary School on a field trip to the House of Ice. With a bit of teaching and moral support from this student, however, Runge made it through the afternoon with a minimum of spills.

Gulls Try Travel; Due Home Sat.

DENVER — The San Diego Gulls, in the midst of a busy road schedule, continue their quest to close ground on the Western Hockey League leaders as they battle the Denver Spurs here tomorrow night. The game will be broadcast on KOGO radio at 6:45 p.m.

The Gulls played last night in Phoenix and, counting that game, will face each of the other WHL teams this week, with four of the five games on the road.

Following tomorrow night's game against the Spurs, the Gulls will return home to the Sports Arena to battle the Salt Lake Golden Eagles on Saturday night. Gametime is 8 o'clock.

Then it's back on the road for the Gulls, who travel to Seattle on Tuesday night to make up a game that was postponed three weeks earlier, and on to Portland on Wednesday night for a key clash with the Buckaroos.

The game against Portland will close out a streak for the Gulls that saw them play 11 of 16 games away from the Sports Arena.

Following the game against Portland next Wednesday, the Gulls will have 23 games left to play — and 14 of them will be on home ice.

Against the Spurs, tomorrow night's opponents, the Gulls have a 3-1-2 record at the Sports Arena, and have lost all three of their previous games in Denver.

The Gulls hold a 2-1 home ice edge over Salt Lake, and have a 3-2 advantage in Salt Lake City. The leading scorers in the series against the Golden Eagles are Gerry Goyer with 12 points (3 goals, 9 assists) and Al Nicholson with 11 points (4 goals, 7 assists). Bob Courcy has seven goals.

In last week's action, San Diego dropped two road games as the road record dipped below .500 for the first time this season. The Gulls dropped a tough 5-4 decision to the Roadrunners in Phoenix, and then lost 6-2 in Denver.

Mini-Tickets To Be Offered By Area Firms

The Padres are mailing to all San Diego County business firms the team's 1972 Mini-Season Ticket brochure, preparatory to the official launching of a Mini-Season sales campaign on February 17.

The increasingly popular Mini-Season Ticket offers Padre fans 24 games for $84, plus a free ticket to a game with the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates.

Fans may select between two plans: Plan A for Friday nights and Sunday games, and Plan B for Wednesday and Friday nights.

"The Padre Mini-Season Ticket remains the lowest-priced season ticket plan in the major leagues," said Elton Schiller, director of business operations. "And so is the full season ticket to all Padre games, which costs $250 for field or plaza seats or $175 for loge seats."

Schiller said that rosters have been completed of the Padres Action Team, businessmen who have volunteered to make personal calls on Mini-Season Ticket customers.

Three 35-man divisions have been formed, each group assigned to cover a section of the county.

Schiller said that Mini-Season Ticket brochures will be mailed February 14.

Businesses who fail to receive the information and persons interested in purchasing Mini-Season tickets should call 283-4494 and request the brochure, which will be mailed immediately.

Mini-Season Ticket purchasers are able to select their preferred location and will be assigned the same seats for all games.

EL GOOGLE, who usually doesn't get many opportunities at romance decided to take advantage of Valentine's Day Feb. 14 to find a sweetheart. SD State College Faculty Musicians Plan Concert

Four members of the faculty at San Diego State College will combine their musical talents for the fifteenth annual Local Artists Concert, sponsored by the Women's Committee of the Grossmont Community Concert Association in cooperation with the Grossmont College office of community services.

Violinists Howard and Gloria Hill will join cellist Paul Anderson and pianist-harpist Marjorie Rohlfleisch in the program, which will feature "Divertimento" by Dittersdorf, Beethoven's "Trio in C Minor, Op. 9, No. 3," and "Piano Quartet (1942)" by Martinu.

Howard and Gloria Hill are former members of the Resident Quartet at Morehead State University, the Aspen Festival Orchestra and the Westchester Symphony. Howard is presently conductor of the San Diego State College Symphony Orchestra. Gloria is now in the first violin section of the San Diego Symphony.

Paul Anderson, now teaching at State College, is a former cellist with the St. Louis Symphony, the La Salle Quartet in Residence at Colorado College, and the Grant Park Summer Orchestra in Chicago. He was principal cellist with the Sherwood Hall Chamber Orchestra and the San Diego Symphony.

Marjorie Rohlfleisch, also teaching at State College, is well known for her many recitals on piano and harpsichord. She has appeared with the Sherwood Hall Orchestra, the San Diego Symphony, the Modern Arts Quartet, and several other orchestras on the west coast.

The concert, which is free and open to the public, will begin at 8 p.m. Sunday evenings in room 220.

The Mt. Miguel bucket brigade will be in action tonight with a seemingly impossible mission against Helix. The Highlanders, who boast a 9-2 league mark, are in second place behind Grossmont in loop play. The Helix team took an earlier 86-61 decision from Mt. Miguel. Game time is at 8 p.m. in the Mt. Miguel gym.

PacTelCo Profits Gain

SAN FRANCISCO — Pacific Telephone has reported 1971 earnings per common share of $1.54 and a return on average invested capital for the year of 6.90 per cent.

Comparable figures for 1970 were $1.46 and 6.72 per cent. The company's average invested capital rose from $4,583,767,000 in 1970 to $5,097,227,000 during 1971, while net income in 1971 was $27,650,000 compared with $200,660,000 in 1970.

Dr. Arnold Mandel To Head Drug Series Tonight

Grossmont Hospital and Grossmont College will continue their public forum series on the "Drug Scene Today," when Dr. Arnold Mandel, chairman, Department of Psychiatry, University of California, San Diego Medical School, speaks at 7:30 p.m., tonight in the Grossmont Hospital Auditorium.

Dr. Mandel will provide answers to such problems as: How to recognize patterns of incipient addiction in the young people close to you, and whether or not the use of hard drugs necessarily follows the use of soft drugs.

A recognized authority on brain chemistry and the effects of various drugs on the brain, Mandel has had extensive experience in the field of psychiatry and its relation to the use of drugs. He has served as a consultant to government agencies at all levels concerned with the psychiatric effects from the use of drugs. He has conducted extensive research in the field of psychiatry and brain chemistry.

His teaching experience goes back to 1954, when he served as a teaching assistant in the Department of Physiology, specializing in neurophysiology at the Tulane Medical School. He has lectured on neurobiology, drug abuse and narcotic addiction, at colleges and universities throughout the country.

Mandel has authored or co-authored over 100 publications on subjects ranging from psychoanalysis and psychopharmacology to psychochemistry studies in man. He graduated with a B.A. degree in psychology, magna cum laude, from Stanford University, before continuing his education and graduating from the Tulane University School of Medicine.

The program consisted of seven seminars covering "district management, administration, law, effective board action, and performance evaluation. It was attended by 125 district leaders representing 15 different types of special districts in California.

The intensive sessions included instruction by some of the nation's authorities in management, education and political science. The program was presented by UC Extension in cooperation with the California Special Districts.

Norbert Ehrenfreund, chief trial attorney of Defenders, Inc., has been selected to speak and lead a discussion for the program February 17. He will speak on "Legalistics vs. Humanistics," and their impact on the drug user. He will moderate a panel of former addicts and a representative of Synanon.

Due to limited seating for the popular series, the public will be admitted on a space-available basis. There is no charge for admission.

Rundell Attends Special Districts Extension Study

Bob Rundell, Director and Vice President of the Helix Irrigation District, recently returned from Santa Barbara where he attended the University of California Extension's "Special Districts Presidents' and Board Members' Institute," a three-day study.

The program, the first of its kind in California, was timed to follow Statewide district elections, and served as both a refresher course for experienced board members and a means by which newly-elected members could gain a comprehensive view of their duties and responsibilities.

MV Home Economics Students Serve Lunch

"Science with practice" was the purpose of the annual senior luncheons, in which 68 girls from the Monte Vista Home Economics Department participated last month.

"Nutrition is a science. The luncheons have been the practice of the science involving planning, shopping, preparing, and serving guests," said Mrs. Genevieve Ruef, Home Economics teacher.

The luncheons, a traditional activity since Monte Vista opened, each involved four to six girls working around a central theme. Themes of this year's luncheons were Italian, Oriental, Mexican, Danish and Polynesian. Each girl could invite one or two guests, adding to the luncheons the art of making guests feel welcome.

Not only was a central theme required, but the girls also had to work within a limited budget. The school only provided 60 cents per person as funds for the luncheons. Everything used over this budget was supplied by the girls.

"Budgeting for the luncheons is progressively difficult, as prices are constantly going up. I think this project is about the most practical experience in consumer buying the girls can get," said Mrs. Ruef.

"The most difficult part of the luncheons, however, is the timing; having everything ready at the same time. I've found the most successful luncheons to be the ones with a master plan," she added.

Mrs. Ruef paralleled planning and serving a luncheon to building a house. "The theme of the luncheon is the foundation upon which everything is built," she said. "The students have been enthusiastic and have successfully faced a practical, realistic problem."

The perennial complaint of teenagers is dramatically depicted in Actors Quarter's current production of "Blue Denim" by James Herlihy and William Noble.

Fifteen-year-old Arthur Bartlett finds himself in a major predicament when his girl friend discovers she's pregnant. His half-hearted attempt at telling his parents he's in trouble falls on deaf ears and causes him to turn to stealing a check from his father, involving his buddy, Ernie, in forgery. All in order to raise the necessary money for an abortion.

The story ends on a hopeful note, but could easily have been a tragedy.

Dan Cody of Lemon Grove deserves laurels for his sensitive portrayal of Arthur. L. W. Beck's direction did much to keep what could easily have become a melodramatic or maudlin a delicate and sympathetic performance.

Also from Lemon Grove, is Adele Garland, who was a believable mother. The father, Bob Ramsey had a few opening night stumbles but played the retired military father with a belligerent reality!

Welfare Cost Cut Sought by Burgener

Senator Clair W. Burgener has introduced legislation which, while adding only one paragraph to California's welfare law, could have far-reaching effects in reducing the cost of welfare in California. Burgener's bill would have employable recipients of Aid to Families with Dependent Children pick up their checks when visiting the local employment office rather than have the checks automatically mailed to them. The measure would not apply to the elderly or the handicapped.

Burgener explained that "this change has already brought surprising results in New York. In the first few months of operation fully 18% of the recipients failed to pick up their checks for any number of reasons. Upon investigation, between 40 and 45% of these were found to be ineligible and dropped from the rolls."

The Burgener amendment would make it possible for the recipient, who is required by present regulation to register for work, to pick up his check while in the process of seeking work. Immediate information would be available on those who refuse to seek work.

Dick Brown Joins Race

ent taxing policies we force premature development of land. Cattle ranches and agricultural areas are disappearing as taxes become so high that cattle and crops can't pay the tax bill. Then owners are forced to develop the property. Instead of a tax base we have now created a tax liability because the cost of servicing these developments is more than the tax revenue and other property owners then share in the tax costs."

Brown said that his policy as supervisor would be to encourage a system of government management where each level would be in concept. County, state and federal entities should aid each other rather than view each as an enemy. Such a program would go far to eliminate the waste of duplication, he said.

He favors an organization which would create closer coordination between existing governments in the county and was among those who drafted SANCOC (S.D. Council of Governments). The bill is in Legislature without a vote.

Brown is a member of numerous civic, service and professional organizations. His record carries 125 important names of Heartland area residents who are sponsoring him.

Drizzle Dampens Area

It was a steady, but light rainfall, earlier this week that is good for tumbleweeds and crabgrass — and all other growing plants. But the weeds seem to respond better than intentional plants.

On Friday the drizzle amounted to .09 inch followed by .04 inches on Saturday — and fog.

In all, it brought the season total to 4.94 trailing behind the 1971 total for the same period of 6.29.

Rainfall seasons begin.

CHAIRMAN ACCEPTS GAVEL — Newly-elected City-County Camp Commission chairman Bill Craven, right, 5th District County Supervisor, accepts gavel from retiring chairman Mike Schaefer as director Ed Puma watches. City-county camping program has seen 300,000 sixth grade students in San Diego County attend its "outdoor classroom" in 25 years of operation.

Imperial-80 Hearing Put Off By Council

17 at City Hall, 202 "C" st., San Diego. Representatives of the school district will be in attendance, as well as a contingent of residents from the area. Between 35 and 40 residents have attended the last two hearings, which were continued.

The Lemon Grove District sought the continuation for two weeks, rather than the one week ordinarily granted, so that the San Diego District would have ample time to study the proposal and that another continuance would not be in order.

Helen Dell To Star In Southland Concert

Southland Music Center, 3459 Imperial ave., Lemon Grove, will present popular organist Helen Dell in an unusual concert Saturday at 8 p.m. featuring popular theatre organ music, the silent thriller "Man From Beyond" starring the Great Houdini and Nita Naldi. The concert will also include the popular old-fashioned community sing-along.

An interesting feature about Southland Music Center is the 300 seat theatre in which the store is located. Piano and organ showrooms flank the foyer or entrance to the theatre itself.

Helen Dell has played at San Diego's Fox Theatre many times. She has a half-dozen long-playing albums available on both electronic and pipe organs. Included in her abilities are writing, composing and arranging for publication, with two books now to her credit. Concerts are held on the second Saturday night of each month. Jim Hansen, co-owner.

MA & PA SHOPPE — Darlene Dickinson, of 10337 Ramona dr., Spring Valley, is the owner of the Ma & Pa Shoppe, a new antique and collector's item shop at 7055 University ave., La Mesa. Among the items she will offer for sale are a 1917 butter churn, a pair of boots dated at 1890, and an old hand-crank record player.

Preparation Of Food Is Topic Of Library Talk

Food preparation will be the topic for discussion at the La Mesa Library's women's program February 16 when Elaine Hiel, a nutritionist with the San Diego Department of Health, presents her program at 9:30 a.m. in the Ben Polak Auditorium, 8053 University ave., La Mesa.

Mrs. Hiel will tell how to prepare tasty, nutritious food without over-spending the budget, how to serve gourmet meals inexpensively, and how to use pre-prepared packaged foods.

She will also discuss the reliability of claims about new foods and "space age" foods which have been advertised on television.

Simultaneously with the program, a children's story hour will take place in the library, adjacent to the Polak Auditorium. Pre-registration is required for the story hour.

G. O. Boisclair Gets Post As Indian Affairs Officer

The appointment of Gerald O. Boisclair, Jr., as Indian Community Affairs Officer for San Diego County was announced by Frank Panarisi, Administrator of the Human Resources Agency.

Boisclair, 32, comes to the county appointment from a position as Executive Director of the All Mission Indian Housing Authority with total responsibility for management, administration and development. His background includes wide experience in advertising and public relations and six years in the U. S. Army, including four years in Germany.

"My first priority is to go out and get priorities from the people," Boisclair says. "We need to establish communication within and among the Indian groups in the County as well as give the outside world a true picture of the Indian community."

Boisclair is a member of the National Association of Housing and Redevelopment Officials, of the housing goals subcommittee of the Comprehensive Planning Organization of San Diego County, and is a member of the tribal business committee of the Pala Mission Indians. He and his wife and daughter live on the Pala Indian Reservation.

In announcing the appointment, Panarisi said, "Community Affairs Officers will consolidate and coordinate the interests of the minority communities in the County. We have had a Mexican-American Affairs Officer for a year; we expect to add black and Filipino/Asian officers in the next few weeks. These four officers will focus not only on identifying the needs of their communities but also on providing a working team to communicate between the communities."

Prose Day Planned

The San Diego Branch of the National League of American Pen Women will introduce speakers Syd Love, and Mary Giacinto, of Lemon Grove, on the League's Prose Day Program February 16 at 2 p.m. in the Davidson Room of the House of Hospitality in Balboa Park.

Syd Love, author of the San Diego "Portrait of a Spectacular City", in conjunction with the San Diego Magazine staff will speak on the art of selling articles. This popular book was introduced during the bi-centennial celebration of San Diego. Love is a teacher at San Diego State and a freelance writer.

Mary Giacinto, co-editor of "Showcase", an annual publication, will review the current "San Pasquale" edition. "Showcase" is a compilation of prize poetry, short stories and articles submitted in the annual contest for San Diego County writers and is sponsored by Showcase Writers Club.

County Recorder Moves Next Week

The County Recorder is moving his office.

Effective Feb. 22 the Recorder's office will be at 1222 First ave. in the City Operations bldg.

The office will continue operations at 4001 Courthouse through Friday, Feb. 18, County Recorder Harvey Bloom said this week.

The move will be accomplished over the three day weekend which includes Washington's Birthday observance on Feb. 21.

Recording functions and most records from November, 1947 to present will be located in the fifth floor of City Operations bldg. Most older records dating back from November, 1947 will be located in a basement office where staff members will assist the public. Copy-making facilities will be at P.O. Box 1750, San Diego, CA 92112. The telephone, 239-7711, ext. 751 for the fifth floor and ext. 682 for basement records.

Bloom said that tax roll numbers on conveyances of real property is not required. Primarily, this refers to deeds resulting from sales and does not apply to trust deeds or reconveyances of trust deeds.

Bloom reminded that a schedule of higher fees will become effective March 4. An increase in filing fees for some state tax liens becomes effective April 1, he said.
